1. Those who would spurn you in-sti-gate a fraud, pleased to ig-nore your good-ness by the ho-ur, and fan-cy they pos-sess a high-er pow-er,

Fools lose their foc-us, nev-er be-ing awed,

'There is no God!'

2. Quite ill-ad-vised their ev-ery ev-il deed, queer what they do to sti-ffle your cre-a-tion,

But you are look-ing down in con-cen-tration, quick for a queue if any-one would need faith in a creed.

3. No one is right-eous, not a sin-gle one, all have di-gressed and all a-like are taint-ed, with em-pa-thy com-plete-ly un-ac-quaint-ed.

See how they swal-low peo-ple, like a bun, un-der the sun.

See how you're prood-ding Ja-cob like a li-on to con-gre-gate and wor-ship you in Zi-on, joy for the jour-ney, glad-ness when they dwell in Is-ra-el.
