1. Phil-i-stines on re-con-nais-sance were camp-ing, troops lay-ing waste plus plun-der-ing and tramp-ing.

Why did you come here treat-ing neigh-bors thus?

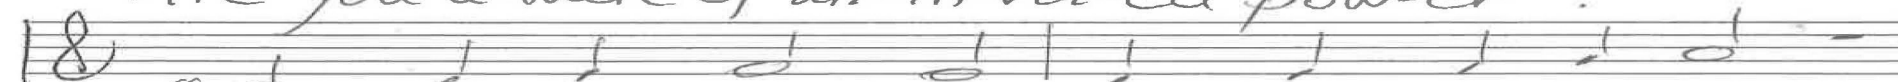

Sam-son it is who's ir-ri-tat-ing us.

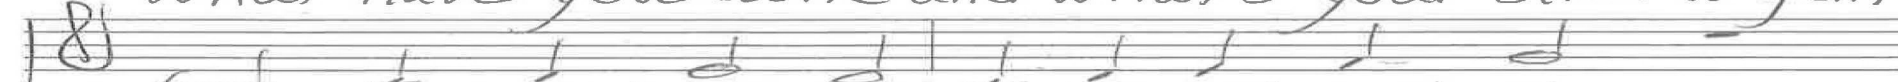

Hordes found that ras-cal hid-ing in a bower.

Are you a-ware of un-in-vit-ed pow-er?

What have you done and what's your strat-a-gem?

How oth-ers fought is how I dealt with them.

2. We have come to re-lease you to our riv-al.

In will I go but swear on my sur-viv-al.

This we in-tend, to bind you hand and arm,

not take your life in-flict-ing an-y harm.

Two were i-deal, those brand-new ropes for bind-ing

cap-tives for peace-ful of-ferings, nev-er mind-ing.

Up to the town, they brought the one ac-cused,

up to the foe, the air with shouts in-fused.

3. Seiz-ing me is a fit of o-ver-turn-ing, light are the lin-en ropes that I am burn-ing!

Lo, what a jaw-bone, much to my de-light, tak-en to lay them out with all my might!

This is the way they'll bend to my de-si-re,

just as I lit those torch-es with a fi-re.

When I am done, I'll hurl it from my hand,

'bone that I threw', this name up-on the land.

4. Sam-son called for some help, se-vere-ly pant-ing,

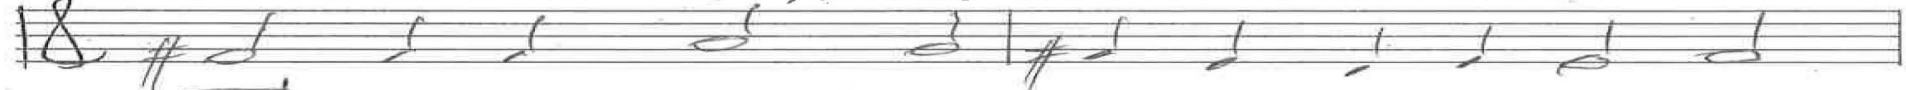

True, it's your tri-umph, yet you've du-ty grant-ing

part of the praise in rec-kon-ing my feat, but must I die of thirst in such a heat?

Right in the ground God o-pened up a hol-low,

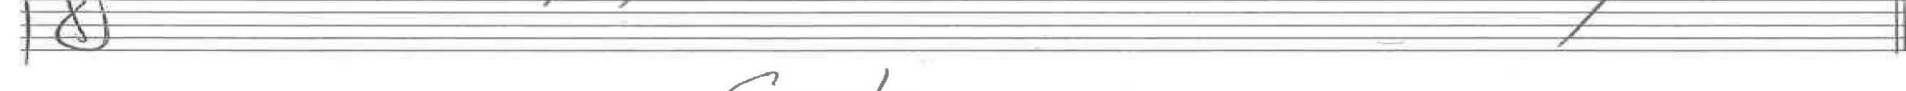

Spring-source of One who Called, where one could swal-low streams gush-ing out and fe-el A-O.K.

There it sup-plies a riv-er still to-day.
