2. They dig with their spade to be hid-ing the plans of where to lay their snares, the se-crets of their lord-ly airs, the mind that you see, over-rid-ing all they're de-cid-ing.

3. Then all will lie low and be tell-ing suc-cess-es of their God and King.

The right-eous will re-joice and sing, take shel-ter where good-ness is dwell-ing, hearts er-er swell-ing.
